

Hight, Colleen

From: Malis, Mark
Sent: Monday, October 27, 2008 3:26 PM
To: Hight, Colleen
Subject: Meghan Hodges

Hi Colleen....

I wanted to drop you a note regarding one of your employees, Meghan Hodges. As a longtime HR leader I have an opportunity to witness many young professionals off the college campus over the years, and you always remember "the great one's". I just wanted to express that Meghan is one of those who fall into that "great" category.

Within our LEAP program it's always intriguing to see who tends to stand out as a true leader, and Meghan has definitely fit that role. She has demonstrated an untiring level of energy and enthusiasm to the program, and has demonstrated unmatched effort to keep her LEAP team focused within some of their project initiatives (e.g. - Second Life). Additionally, Meghan conveys a confidence, maturity, and overall communication skills that stand apart from the majority of the group. Many in the group have candidly pointed out that Meghan has "been the glue" for their Second Life project, and that they would have been lost without her.

I know in chatting with Meghan that she really enjoys her role on your team, and is aspiring to always learn and contribute more. I just wanted to convey how impressed I am with Meghan, and that she certainly seems to have a great future ahead of her here at McKesson.

A great hire Colleen!

Mark

Mark D. Malis
Director - Talent Management
McKesson Technology Solutions

direct cell

Confidentiality Notice: This email message, including any attachments, is for the sole use of the intended recipient(s) and may contain confidential and privileged information. Any unauthorized review, use, disclosure or distribution is prohibited. If you are not the intended recipient, please contact the sender by reply e-mail and destroy all copies of the original message.

10/28/2008